

Where Can Political Science Take You?

What Can You Do?	Where Can You Go?	How Do You Best Prepare?
Be a Political Scientist	Graduate School—Ph.D.	Take advanced courses in statistics, take seminars, do independent research, work with faculty on research
Be a Lawyer	Law School—JD	take seminars, do independent studies, take electives in History, philosophy, and writing
Be in Politics	Practitioner	Internships, Service Learning, Washington, DC Semester, Statehouse semesters
Be in the Private and Public Sector	Nonprofit and Business World	Study abroad, internships, independent research, student leadership

The APSA Presidential Task Force on Rethinking Political Science Education produced this report. Recommended Citation:

APSA Presidential Task Force on Rethinking Political Science Education. 2024. “Where Can Political Science Take You?” Rethinking Political Science Education. Washington, DC: American Political Science Association.